

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to recommend Jindo Kim, who has been an integral part of our team at Helprr.ai, an emotional wellness startup where I serve as Founder and CEO. During his time with us, Jindo has made a remarkable impact through his technical skill, structured thinking, and proactive attitude.

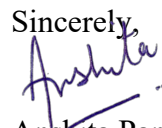

Throughout his work with Helprr, Jindo has consistently demonstrated deep technical knowledge, problem-solving ability, and a strong sense of ownership. He played a key role in studying our backend architecture for new feature development, contributing thoughtfully to discussions and always proposing well-reasoned, scalable solutions. His ability to take complex problems and break them down into clear, logical steps has greatly improved the efficiency of our development process.

One of Jindo's standout qualities is his solution-oriented mindset. He approaches challenges calmly and methodically, ensuring that every decision is guided by both technical best practices and the broader project vision. Whether it's optimizing workflows, debugging integrations, or collaborating with cross-functional teammates, Jindo brings both structure and creativity to his work.

Beyond his technical expertise, Jindo is a team player with exceptional communication and collaboration skills. He is reliable, thoughtful, and receptive to feedback, qualities that make him a valued and trusted member of any team. His professionalism and humility set him apart.

I have no doubt that Jindo will be a tremendous asset to any organization he joins. He has my highest recommendation, and I am confident that his future contributions will reflect the same excellence and commitment he demonstrated at Helprr.

Please feel free to contact me if you require any further information.

Sincerely,

Anshita Pandey
